EMERGENCY CALLS

The quickest way to report a fire or other emergency is to dial the number direct. That's why it's important to list those numbers now in the spaces below.

However, any time you don't know the number in an emergency, just dial "Operator" and say: "I want to report a fire," "I want a policeman," or "I want an ambulance." Then tell the Operator where help is needed. Give her the telephone number, street address, and the town or city from which you're calling.

WARNING

Section 53-210 of the General Statutes of Connecticut—Revision of 1958 provides that "Any person who willfully refuses to relinquish a party line when informed that such line is needed for an emergency call to a fire department or police department or for medical aid or ambulance service, or any person who secures the use of a party line by falsely stating that such line is needed for an emergency call shall be fined not more than fifty dollars." The law defines "emergency" as "a situation in which property or human life are in jeopardy and the prompt summoning of aid is essential."

ON THE COVER

Colonel Augustus G. Hazard (1802-1868) was one of the first manufacturers of gunpowder in this area. Hazardville was named for this industrious and philanthropic citizen.

Hazard received the honorary title of colonel when he lived in Georgia prior to the Civil War. At his home in Enfield, he entertained Jefferson Davis, then Secretary of War in President Pierce's Cabinet, and later President of the Confederacy.

Once the war started, Hazard was one of the largest suppliers of gunpowder to the Union forces. He then owned 125 buildings in which he manufactured gunpowder under federal contracts.
